Hi there,
Thank you for your feedback! I have forwarded this to our Machine Learning team to integrate into their training models for future releases.

If you identify a misidentification like this in the future, our team recommends flagging the result so that it is sent to our Machine Learning team directly.

Thank you for your patience as we continually work to improve our models!

Stay safe,
Rhianna

Subject: Vehicle Description Alert Fail

Flock Safety Support,

I was reviewing the training videos for Flock Alerts Certification and saw the one about Vehicle Description Alerts. The video made it sound like you could input a color and body style of a vehicle you're looking for and get alerts when one enters an area.

I thought I'd test it out.

On 05-24-24 at about 1405 Hrs., I created a Vehicle Description Alert for a silver_grey (which mine obviously is) car (sedan, coupe, convertible, hatchback, wagon…I opted for this because I know in the past Flock as identified it as a coupe, hatchback and sedan) for cams 073 and 074 between 1400-1430 Hrs.

I drove past both cameras around 1423 Hrs in my gray Toyota Prius.

Both cameras failed to create an alert.

Reason: cameras saw my vehicle as being "white"

Attached are confirmation photos from those two cameras.
